Japanese interiors are characterized by their uncluttered spaces, clean lines, and a restrained color palette. This minimalism is not only visual but also philosophical, emphasizing "less is more" to cultivate calmness and focus.

- Natural Materials

Wood, paper, bamboo, stone, and clay are commonly used materials that connect indoor spaces with the natural environment. These materials age gracefully, adding character and warmth.

- Flexibility and Multi-functionality

Rooms are often designed to serve multiple purposes, with sliding doors (fusuma) and movable partitions allowing spaces to adapt to different needs seamlessly.

- Connection to Nature

Large windows, sliding doors opening to gardens, and the strategic placement of plants foster a seamless connection between indoor and outdoor environments.

diffused natural light while maintaining privacy. They serve as room dividers and windows.

- Fusuma Doors: Opaque sliding doors often decorated with paintings or patterns, used to partition rooms or closets.

b. Tatami Mats

Traditional flooring made of woven straw, tatami mats define the spatial layout of rooms and evoke a sense of calm. They also influence the room's size and proportions.
